"Tri-Pod" is a presentation of photographs by artists Taliaferro Jones, Ray Charles White and Winston Boyers. Whereas, the work of each artist is personal, the photographs similarly focus on their surroundings- from the natural, rolling waters and landscapes, to the constructed and industrial buildings of our cityscapes. The highly saturated colours, and clear focus of each photograph is the result of the painstaking eye of the artist and the stability of the tripod.

Along with the Tri-Pod exhibition, one artist, Taliaferro Jones has created site specific mixed media installations in the gallery's showroom vaults. Both installations are intertwined in their various states of explorations of water. "Within" focuses more on the meditative calm within that water can offer, while "Veil" emphasizes the play and joy that we can all access as we surrender to our childlike tendencies. Together, they connect us with the fundamental relationships we all share within ourselves and with each other towards water; the essence of life.
